

Voices lighting up African stories.

A voice and audio studio telling the continent's stories in their own light.

THE STUDIO

A story changes when it's told by the people who lived it.

From a sunlit room in Nairobi, we record, produce and shape audio that carries the weight, warmth and humour of the continent — never flattened, never translated into someone else's accent. We work with brands, publishers, broadcasters and institutions who want their message to actually be heard.

HOW WE WORK

01

We start with listening

Before a word is recorded we sit with you — and, where it matters, with the communities your story belongs to.

02

We cast for truth

The right voice, in the right language, with the right lived experience — across regions, generations and registers.

03

We finish like a craft house

Direction, recording, edit, mix and master under one roof. You leave with delivery-ready audio and the masters.

OUR WORK · THREE ROOMS

Three rooms, one studio.

Every project lives in one of three rooms — each with its own voice, craft and sibling mark.

ROOM 01 · COMMERCIALS

Nairobi Narrates

Brand films, radio & broadcast. Voices that sell without losing their soul.

- TV, radio & online ad voiceover
- Brand films & explainers
- Station IDs & promos

ROOM 02 · AUDIOBOOKS

The Narrator's Chair

Long-form narration done with patience and love — voices that honour the page.

- Audiobook recording & production
- Author & literary collaborations
- Oral history & archive work

ROOM 03 · POLICY & DEVELOPMENT

The Listening Room

Audio for the work that shapes lives — grounded in the communities it serves.

- Podcasts & documentary series
- NGO, government & donor audio
- Community & field recording
